

Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc. Company Introduction & History

Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc. was founded back in 1995 by a person named Mr. Eric M. Lattin at the time he started the company he was 32 years old. Prior to starting Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc. he worked in other letter, printing, bindery, and financial shops for 99.9% of his working career. To him service, quality and performance were his goal when he was working at these other shops. The education that the founder Mr. Eric M. Lattin pursued after graduating from high school was some community technical school courses in business basic management. The collage that he went to for a short period of time was National American University. The courses that he took were computer advanced, environmental science, and business law courses. The professional skills and the mechanical traits that he has learned over the years was one of the reasons that Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc. was started as a professional service company in the state of Minnesota. The company core values are to provide the general public and the business community with a professional service and a quality product at the lowest market value price possible.

We at Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc. believe that every customer is important to us and to our growth as a company. We take pride in doing the work for our customers and we do the work to the best of our abilities. The services that Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc. provided at the beginning of the company were mail fulfillment, bindery, data entry business applications. With less then $3,500.00 hundred dollars start up cost that the founder Mr. Eric M. Lattin paid for out of his pocket. Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc. knows the true meaning of hard economics times with going through two recessions and one on the verge of a depression and a very difficult start up; we know how to survive when things start to become very difficult. Hard work and perseverance is one of our best qualities that the founder Mr. Eric M. Lattin has and as a business entity naming Upper Midwest Mailing Service Inc.

Sincerely,
Mr. Eric M. Lattin
